

8(a) Business Registration

After getting your business registered in the System for Award Management (SAM), US Federal Contractor Registration (USFCR) will determine if you potentially qualify for the 8(a) Business Development Program. Out of all the small business set-asides, the 8(a) Program has the most extensive amount of documentation required to get accepted. With USFCR's 8(a) business registration, we will get you compliant in a time and cost efficient manner.

8(A) CHALLENGES

Time and Labor

8(a) requires more documentation and processing than any other small business set-aside.

Compliance Penalties

Errors in the 8(a) registration can cause a business to face penalties and delays.

Income and Asset Verification

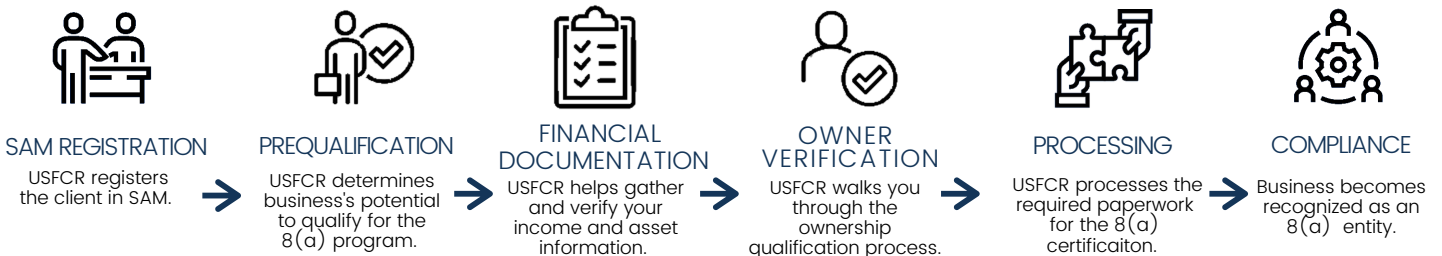

The 8(a) program requires the business owner to provide extensive documentation on their income and total assets.

Ownership Vetting

There's a long list of requirements that a business owner has to fulfill in order to become 8(a) compliant.

INSIDE USFCR'S SOLUTION

By outsourcing the 8(a) certification process, businesses save time and money getting in compliance for this set-aside.
